Code of conduct for teachers

For teachers to sustain a supportive and courteous learning environment for students, a code of conduct must be established. Here is a rough framework that you may use as a starting point for creating a code of conduct for teachers even if precise aspects may change based on the educational institution or organisation:

1. Engage in all interactions with students, coworkers, and parents with the utmost professionalism and ethics.
2. Uphold the educational institution's ideals and mission.
3. Respect, dignity, and justice should be shown to all students, regardless of their upbringing, skills, or behaviour.
4. Avoid using insulting words, disparaging statements, or acting in a discriminatory manner.
5. To maintain a safe and secure learning environment, set appropriate boundaries between teachers and pupils.
6. Avoid participating in any improper behaviour.
7. Give all students safety and well being—both physically and emotionally—top priority.
8. Any worries concerning a student's welfare should be brought up with the proper authorities.
9. Give all students an equal chance to participate and succeed in both their academic and social endeavours.

10. Keep lines of communication open and transparent with parents, coworkers, and students.

11. Actively hear the wants and concerns of the pupils.

12. Make a commitment to ongoing professional development to improve your teaching abilities and stay current with the finest teaching techniques.

13. Use fair and dependable classroom management strategies to promote a supportive learning environment.

14. Encourage an environment that welcomes all students' active engagement.

uphold academic honesty and encourage moral conduct among students.

15. Demonstrate a high level of professionalism and ethical behavior in all interactions with students, colleagues, and parents.

16. Treat all students with respect, dignity, and fairness, regardless of their background, abilities, or behavior.

17. Refrain from using offensive language, derogatory remarks, or discriminatory behavior.
