6.2.1 Strategic Plan

1. Holistic Teacher Education

As per the vision, our college has been offering the Teacher Training programme since 1945 to serve the community through Teacher Education. It offers the B. Ed programme to produce teachers who can address the diverse needs of schools and contribute to the holistic development of pupils. The post graduate and research programmes such as M. Ed and Ph. D are offered to produce teacher educators and academicians who can cater to the changing needs of the teacher education institutions.

2. Technological and Pedagogical Content Knowledge

Recognizing the fact that teacher educators with updated and upgraded knowledge and skills can contribute to the holistic development of the future teachers, the college continues to organize training and workshops on Technological and Pedagogical Content Knowledge.

The initiative of the college towards ICT integrated teaching aimed at equipping teacher educators in using digital tools for teaching-learning and assessment. It enables the teacher educators to be updated in educational applications to reach learners beyond boundaries. The college has been organizing training for staff to get trained in recent developments of the Technological and Pedagogical Content Knowledge.

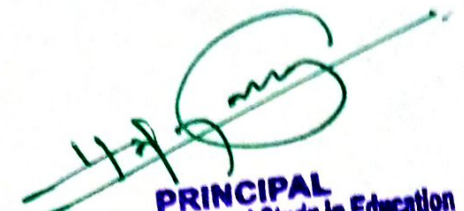

All student teachers are getting trained in using Digital Technology for online classes and for blended classrooms. The college organizes faculty development programmes for the young teaching faculty of Arts and Science College to enable them to be familiar with concepts such as Micro-teaching and Pedagogical Content Knowledge.
